

A. Definition

1. A singular possessive noun _____.

- a. shows that something belongs to one person, place, or thing.
- b. shows that something belongs to more than one person, place, or thing.
- c. shows that many actions belong to one person, place, or thing.

2. A plural possessive noun _____.

- a. shows that something belongs to one person, place, or thing.
- b. shows that something belongs to more than one person, place, or thing.
- c. shows that many actions belong to one person, place, or thing.

B. Replace the underlined words with a possessive noun. Write the new sentence in the space provided.

Example: The students of Ms. Kendall entered a cooking contest.

Ms. Kendall's students entered a cooking contest.

1. All of the recipes of the class were original.

2. The chicken of Tamisha was tasty with applesauce.

3. The hamburgers of Deon made a big hit.

4. Everyone enjoyed the popcorn of Jennifer.

5. The pizza of Mario won the grand prize.

6. We ordered some of the chicken of Captain Kenny.

7. The bag of Alana was full of clothes.

8. My mom gave me the pens of Jessica.

C. Write each group of words in the plural possessive form.

Example: the clothes of the scarecrows

the scarecrows' clothes

1. the smiles of the pumpkins

2. the hats of the sisters

3. the flavour of the seeds

4. the costumes of the men

5. the teachers of the classes

6. the dancers of the shows

7. the computers of the students

8. the apples of the trees

D. Finish each sentence with your own idea.

1	The cat's tail
2	The trees' leaves
3	The books' pages
4	The boy's kite
5	The girl's balloon
6	My friend's party
7	The school's teachers
8	The students' tests